DIVERSITY AND INTEGRATION IN MYCORRHIZAS
Proceedings of the 3rd International Conference on Mycorrhizas (ICO3)

Adelaide, 8–13 July 2001

Guest editors:
S.E. Smith & F.A. Smith

Foreword
S.E. Smith and F.A. Smith ix–x

Introductory Chapter

Challenges for mycorrhizal research into the new millennium
B. Söderström 1–7

Molecular Diversity and Phylogeny

Molecular and functional diversity in soil micro-organisms
J.I. Prosser 9–17

Fungal diversity in ectomycorrhizal communities: sampling effort and species detection
A.F.S. Taylor 19–28

Molecular approaches to ectomycorrhizal diversity studies: variation in ITS at a local scale
T.R. Horton 29–39

Ericoid mycorrhizal fungi: some new perspectives on old acquaintances
S. Perotto, M. Girlanda and E. Martino 41–53

Molecular detection, community structure and phylogeny of ericoid mycorrhizal fungi
S.M. Berch, T.R. Allen, and M.L. Berbee 55–66

Molecular identification and phylogeny of arbuscular mycorrhizal fungi
D. Redecker 67–73

Molecular phylogeny, taxonomy, and evolution of Geosiphon pyriformis and arbuscular mycorrhizal fungi
A. Schüßler 75–83

Development: from Genes to Structure

The application of genetic approaches for investigations of mycorrhizal symbioses
S.J. Barker, S. Duplessis, D. Tagu 85–95

The ectomycorrhizal symbiosis: genetics and development
D. Tagu, F. Lapeyrie and F. Martin 97–105

Molecular approaches to understanding mycorrhizal symbioses
S.J. Barker and N.J. Larkan 107–116

Fungal gene expression in early symbiotic interactions between Laccaria bicolor and red pine
G.K. Podila, J. Zheng, S. Balasubramanian, S. Sundaram, S. Hiremath, J.H. Brand and M.J. Hymes 117–128

Early developmentally regulated genes in the arbuscular mycorrhizal fungus Glomus mosseae: identification of GmGIN1, a novel gene with homology to the C-terminus of metazoan hedgehog proteins
N. Requena, P. Mann, R. Hampp and P. Franken 129–139

Expression in an arbuscular mycorrhizal fungus of genes putatively involved in metabolism, transport, the cytoskeleton and the cell cycle
J. Jun, J. Abubaker, C. Rehrer, P.E. Pfeffer, Y. Shachar-Hill and P.J. Lammers 141–148

Recent developments in the study of orchid mycorrhiza
H.N. Rasmussen 149–163

Functional Relationships

An update on nutrient transport processes in ectomycorrhizas
M. Chalot, A. Javelle, D. Blaudez, R. Lambilliote, R. Cooke, H. Sentenac, D. Wipf and B. Botton 165–175

The role of the motile tubular vacuole system in mycorrhizal fungi
A.E. Ashford and W.G. Allaway 177–187

Tracking metabolism and imaging transport in arbuscular mycorrhizal fungi
B. Bago, P.E. Pfeffer, W. Zipfel, P. Lammers and Y. Shachar-Hill 189–197

Cytoskeleton in mycorrhizal symbiosis
S. Timonen and R.L. Peterson 199–210

Endosymbiotic bacteria in mycorrhizal fungi: from their morphology to genomic sequences
D. Minerdi, V. Bianciotto and P. Bonfante 211–219

P metabolism and transport in AM fungi
T. Ezawa, S.E. Smith and F.A. Smith 221–230

Mechanisms of nutrient transport across interfaces in arbuscular mycorrhizas
N. Ferrol, J.M. Barea and C. Azcón-Aguilar 231–237

Phosphate transporters of Medicago truncatula and arbuscular mycorrhizal fungi
W.K. Versaw, T.-J. Chiou and M.J. Harrison 239–245

Plant nutrient transporter regulation in arbuscular mycorrhizas
S.H. Burleigh and I.E. Bechmann 247–251

Ecological Interactions

Mycorrhizas and global environmental change: research at different scales
P.L. Staddon, A. Heinemeyer and A.H. Fitter 253–261

Is there a role for arbuscular mycorrhizal fungi in production agriculture?
M.H. Ryan and J.H. Graham 263–271

Inoculation with arbuscular mycorrhizal fungi: the status quo in Japan and the future prospects
M. Saito and T. Marumoto 273–279

Host-specificity of AM fungal population growth rates can generate feedback on plant growth
J.D. Bever 281–290

Ecological role of hypogeous ectomycorrhizal fungi in Australian forests and woodlands
A.W. Claridge 291–305

Effects of mycorrhizal fungi on plant populations
R.T. Koide and I.A. Dickie 307–317

The role of mycorrhizas in plant community structure and dynamics: lessons from grasslands
D.C. Hartnett, G.W.T. Wilson 319–331

Volume contents 333–335

Author index 337

Instructions to authors 339–345
